Down in Groves county the grand jury has returned an indictment for gaming against a dead man. That was pressing the prerogatives of the law about as far as an Arkansas justice made them go. Down in Arkansas man started out on a mule and not returning on schedule time a searching party started out on a tour of investigation and found the man's body in a stream where he had drowned three days previously, and found the mule grazing along the banks of the stream. A revolver was found on the body of the man. A Justice of the Peace promptly entered a charge of carrying concealed weapons, tried the dead man, fined him fifty dollars, and appropriated the mule and revolver to satisfy fine and cost.—Kentucky Colonel.

A very handsome young lady has been appointed Deputy Sheriff of Salt Lake City, Utah, and now the delinquent tax-payers are "easily caught up with" and the county has a heavy "flush fund."

FULLY PREPARED.—"So you wish to leave to get married, Mary? I hope you have given the matter a serious consideration?"

"Oh I have, sir," was the earnest reply. "I've been to two fortune-tellers and a clairvoyant, and looked in a sign book and dreamed on a lock of his hair and been to one of those astrologers and to a meejum, and they all tell me to go ahead, sir. I ain't one to marry reckless like, sir."

A Mercer county man rode around a toll gate to avoid paying five cents toll; when arrested for that, a pistol was found in his pocket for which he was fined. He sold his cow to get money to pay the fine, and then stole the cow and drove her back home because he needed milk and he is now in jail for stealing the cow.

The chemists at the New Jersey experiment station claimed to have proved by analysis that a crop of crimson clover six inches high has accumulated nitrogen per acre that would cost $15 to buy; at thirteen inches high, $25 50 per acre, while at full maturity the nitrogen taken from the air by the clover is worth $20 per acre.

Experience

Teaches us much

The wise and prudent man profiteth by the experience of others. We have but one way to judge the future and that is by the past, and we should profit by our mistakes, and be guided by the lamp of experience. Experience teaches all that quick cash sales and small profits is the modern way of conducting a successful business. I do business in this way, which makes it to the buyers interest to see me when needing any thing in General Merchandise.

The Sunday School picnic at success attended by about 1,500 people. The picnic was under the auspices of the M. E. Church

Some Potatoes.

Last week the Democrat published a potato item from the Glasgow Times, in which it was stated that in forty-five days from the time of planting, a good sized marketable potato was produced. Cashier B. F.
Curtis of the Clark County National Bank, calls the Glasgow potato grower and goes him several days better. Mr. Curtis planted a lot of Early Rose and in thirty-eight days from the time of planting he had large sized potatoes for his table. It takes mighty good soil to get ahead of Cl Clark.—Winchester Democrat.

Killing At Clay City.

At the picnic at Clay City last Saturday Deputy police Francis Blythe shot and killed Herbert Brown, an attorney of Stanton. From the best information we can gather it seems that Blythe, in his attempt to arrest Bill Hardwick, a Stanton man, Brown interfered and stepped to one side and drew a pistol and aimed to shoot Blythe but his pistol failed to fire, and by this time Blythe had shot Brown twice, once in the leg and bowels, from which wounds he died on the following day.

Brown had been at Stanton but a short while, having moved there from Rowan county six weeks ago. He was 29 years old and had been married but a short time.

Blythe is under guard. He will have his examining trial at Stanton next Tuesday, when it is thought he will come clear.

The Standard Oil Trust has declared another dividend of 10 per cent. on its capital stock. The capital stock is $97,250,000. The dividends amount to about 40 per cent. per annum, and the shares are worth $325 for each $100 shares. Mr. Rockefeller's part of the last dividend was $3,000,000, and his annual income from his stock in the Standard Oil Company amounts to about $12,000, to any legislation which would interfere with trusts, and is entirely satisfied with the present administration of the federal government. He is ready to make a liberal donation to Brown Uni-to give to any university, or for any form of charity where there is any criticism of the means by which he acquires his wealth. He would heartily indorse the sermon of Dr. Hamilton on the duties of citizenship, but he would warmly applaud the Courier-Journal for its defense of the black flag of corruption.—Louisville Dispatch.

An exchange makes the following comparison between the treatment of silver in France and this country: The financial system of France is an object lesson that the gold standard theorists of this country could study with profit.
France has seven hundred millions of silver coin which is maintained at par with gold.
This is done not by boycotting the as our treasury department does, but by the refusal of the Bank of France to redeem its note circulation in gold when it prefers to pay silver. No run is attempted on the gold in the bank, because it would be met with silver redemption. The same policy could and would have been pursued in this country but for the pliant subservancy of the treasury officials to the gold combine in Wall street, or, perhaps, worse than that, a deliberate sellout to these money cormorants, who wanted government bonds issued, and were allowed to raid on the treasury gold in order to get them.

A Washington lawyer is rather noted for the facility with which he forgets financial obligations, says the Star. He has owed a certain grocer $8 for a year or two. The other day the merchant concluded to try a new course with him. Meeting him in his store, he said.

"Judge, I have a customer who owes me a small bill and he owed it for a long time. He makes plenty of money but won't pay. What would you do?"

"I'd sue him," said the lawyer emphatically.

"Well, I'll put the account in your hands," said the merchant, presenting a statement of account against himself.

"All right, I will attend to it," said the disciple of blackstone.

A few days later the merchant received the following note from the lawyer:

"In case of—, against—, I took judgment for full amount of your claim. Execution was issued and returned 'no property found.' My fee for obtaining judgment is $10, for which amount please send check. Will be glad to serve in any other matters in which you need an attorney.—Exchange.

The entire shipment made up a special train and represented an outlay of nearly $35,000.
